

1. Our aim is to give you a good service at all times. However, if you have a complaint you are invited to let us know as soon as possible. It is not necessary to involve solicitors in order to make your complaint, but you are free to do so should you wish.
2. Please note that Chambers will only consider complaints that are raised within one year of the act or omission complained of.
3. There may be occasions when the nature or circumstances of a complaint make it more appropriate (e.g. because the complaint might raise an allegation of professional misconduct) to be dealt with by another body, such as the Bar Standards Board or the Legal Ombudsman, rather than through this complaints procedure. If we reach this conclusion in relation to any complaint we will tell you promptly.

Complaints Made by Telephone

4. You may wish to make a complaint in writing and, if so, please follow the procedure in paragraph 6 below. However, if you would rather speak on the telephone about your complaint then please telephone the individual nominated under the Chambers Complaints Procedure to deal with complaints, Jon Robinson (Chambers' Head of Business Operations) or (if the complaint is about Jon Robinson) one of the Joint Heads of Chambers (Sean Brannigan K.C. and Rachel Ansell K.C.). The person you contact will make a note of the details of your complaint and what you would like done about it. They will discuss your concerns with you and aim to resolve them. If the matter is resolved they will record the outcome, check that you are satisfied with the outcome and record that you are satisfied. You may also wish to record the outcome of the telephone discussion in writing.
5. If your complaint is not resolved on the telephone you will be invited to write to us about it within the next 14 days so it can be investigated formally.

Complaints made in Writing

6. Please give the following details:
 - Your name and address;
 - Which member(s) of Chambers or staff you are complaining about;
 - The detail of the complaint; and
 - What you would like done about it.

Please address your letter to Jon Robinson, Head of Business Operations, 4 Pump Court, Temple, London EC4Y 7AN (or, if the complaint is about Jon Robinson, to one of the Joint Heads of Chambers, Sean Brannigan K.C. and Rachel Ansell K.C., at the same address). We will, where possible, acknowledge receipt of your complaint within two days and provide you with details of how your complaint will be dealt with.

7. The complaint will be investigated by Michael Davie K.C. or by another King's Counsel nominated by Michael Davie K.C. (If the complaint is about Michael Davie K.C., it will be investigated by one of the Joint Heads of Chambers, Sean Brannigan K.C. and Rachel Ansell K.C.. In any case, the person appointed to investigate the complaint will be someone other than the person you are complaining about.
8. The person appointed to investigate will write to you as soon as possible to let you know they have been appointed and that they will reply to your complaint within 14 days. If they find later that they are not going to be able to reply within 14 days they will set a new date for their reply and inform you. The reply will set out:
 - The nature and scope of the investigation;
 - The conclusion on each complaint and the basis for that conclusion; and
 - If they find that you are justified in your complaint, their proposals for resolving the complaint.

Confidentiality

9. All conversations and documents relating to the complaint will be treated as confidential and will be disclosed only to the extent that is necessary. Disclosure will be to the Joint Heads of Chambers and to anyone involved in the complaint and its investigation. Such people will include the barrister or staff member who you have complained about, Michael Davie K.C. and the person who investigates the complaint. The Bar Standards Board is entitled to inspect the documents and seek information about the complaint when discharging its auditing and monitoring functions.

Our Policy

10. As part of our commitment to client care we make a written record of any complaint and retain all documents and correspondence generated by the complaint for a period of six years. Our Joint Heads of Chambers inspect a record of complaints regularly with a view to improving services.

Alternative Complaints Bodies, the Legal Ombudsman or the Bar Standards Board

11. We hope that you will use our procedure. However, if you are unhappy with the outcome you may take up your complaint with one of the other bodies designated to hear complaints against barristers or mediators. If it has not been possible to resolve your complaint using our procedure, alternative complaints bodies (such as ProMediate <http://www.promediate.co.uk>) exist which are competent to deal with complaints about legal services should you and the person about whom your complaint is made both agree to use such a scheme. If the complaint concerns a barrister who is acting as a Civil Mediation Council Registered mediator and the response is not accepted, then you can appeal to the Civil Mediation Council on certain grounds – see <https://civilmediation.org/for-the-public/complaints>. In addition, there are the Legal Ombudsman (who deals with complaints from clients of barristers about the services provided by barristers) and the Bar Standards Board (which deals with complaints about professional misconduct and disciplinary matters). The Legal Ombudsman acts as a single point of contact for all such complaints, and will ensure that any complaints that relate to professional misconduct are referred to the Bar Standards Board to deal with.

12. Before accepting a complaint for investigation the Legal Ombudsman will check that you have tried to resolve your complaint with us first. If you have, then you must take your complaint to the Legal Ombudsman:

- Not more than one year from the date of the act or omission being complained about; or
- Not more than one year from the date when you should have realised that there was cause for complaint;

and

- Within six months of receiving a final response to your complaint.
